AMONG THE PUBLISHERS.

THE LITERARY EDITOR.

Dear Sir:

We would be obliged if you would insert the following item among your literary notes.

Yours respectfully,

THE CHRISTIAN UNION.

Emerson once said of Mrs. Helen Jackson ("H. H.") that she stood on the threshold of a great achievement. The large and increasing circle of her readers are doubtless satisfied that Mr. Emerson's prophecy was fulfilled years ago; if any doubt remained, it would certainly be removed by the beauty, pathos, and power of Mrs. Jackson's story, "Ramona," now being published in The Christian Union, 20 Lafayette Place, New York. For dramatic interest, narrative skill, and deep feeling, no story of recent years has equalled it.

THE CENTURY, for August, is the mid-summer holiday issue, and contains some of the very best material they have given since the beginning of the year. Mrs. Van Rensselaer continues her series on American Architecture, showing many new buildings which can be immediately recognized by her New York readers. "Sam Houston" is written up very cleverly, and "On the track of Ulysses," is exceptionally good. There is a short story entitled "An Effect in Yellow," which is admirably told and most delightfully conceived; there is a portrait in it we think which most New Yorkers will recognize.

"STORIES BY AMERICAN AUTHORS," Vol. V., has been issued by Messrs. Scribners Sons, and embraces "A Light Man," by Henry James; "Yatil," by F. D. Millet; "The End of New York," by Park Benjamin; "Why Thomas was Discharged," by George Arnold, and "The Tachypomp," by E. P. Mitchell. The stories (excepting Mr. Henry James') are excellent, readable, and instructive, and this volume is a creditable companion to the others that have come before.

The following notice reaches us:

THE NEW YORK COMMERCIAL ADVERTISER.

At a meeting to-day of the Board of Trustees of the Commercial Advertiser Association, Mr. Bryant Godwin was appointed Treasurer and Publisher in the place of Mr. Beverley Ward, resigned. All business communications may therefore in future be addressed to Mr. Godwin.

THE AMATEURS' ART DESIGNER is the title of a new quarterly journal, published by Howell & James, London, and made up of a variety of useful articles upon art, practical and pictorial, and several extra sheets of suggestive and valuable designs for metal work, knitting, etc., etc. The work is an excellent one.

A BUILDING ASSOCIATION JOURNAL has made its appearance in Chicago and represents the interests conveyed in its title. The news is entirely in reference to building matters and its contents are thoroughly and undeviatingly practical business articles. Publication office, 121 Dearborn Street.
